Important Information about Account Statements

An Account Statement is a document required by regulation that we send you following the end of a month or a quarter in which you conducted some activity in your account. Every member receives an account statement at the end of each calendar quarter regardless of account activity. The statement provides important information about your account such as the transactions you conducted, the overall value of your account at the end of the statement period, any other account information, and key terms and conditions governing your account.

Important Information about Account Notices

An Account Notice is a document required by regulation that we send you that contains important information regarding your account. The account notice provides important information about your account such as the transactions you conducted, the overall value of your account at the end of the maturity period, or any other account information, and key terms and conditions governing your account.

Important Information about Tax Notices

An account Tax Notice is a document required by regulation that we send you following the end of every calendar year. You must have a minimum interest earned of $10 for a deposit account and a minimum of $600 interest paid for a mortgage loan in order to receive a tax notice from Honda FCU. The account tax notice provides important information about your account such as the transactions you conducted, the overall value of your account at the end of the statement period, any other account information, and key terms and conditions governing your account and is to be used for tax purposes.

Email Notifications and eDocuments: How They Work

With eDocuments, we notify you by email when your account statements or notices are ready to be viewed. The email notification will contain a link for you to access www.hondafcu.org where, after you log into Digital Banking, you will click on the “Services” > “eDocuments” button. Once you click on the “eDocuments” button, you will see links to view statements, notices or tax notices. From the time you enroll, we will maintain at the same location your most recent account statements and notices, going back up to 18 months on a rolling basis.

Email delivery of the notification for your account statement(s) or notice(s) with a link to our secure web site can offer significant advantages in terms of speed and convenience. Generally, we can deliver eDocuments to you within four business days of the end of the statement period. You will be able to print Honda Federal Credit Union eDocuments in print-friendly Portable Document Format ("PDF"), provided that your computer has a browser that is able to view and print dynamically-generated PDF. In order to generate the PDF version, you will need to have Adobe Acrobat Reader on your computer (see additional information below). You may save eDocuments by storing the link on your computer or by downloading and saving the documents the way you would any other file from the Web. Depending on, among other things, your record keeping practices and your comfort level with and ability to print and store electronic documents, you should decide whether electronic statements or paper statements are best for you.

Electronic Formats and Access

In order to receive the email notification that your statement or notice is ready, you will need access to a computer, tablet or phone that allows you to receive email and an account with an email service provider compatible with your email software.

In order to access your Honda Federal Credit Union eDocuments, you will need to log in to your account. For viewing, printing, storing, or downloading your Honda Federal Credit Union eDocuments, we will provide them in PDF format. To access the PDF format, we recommend the most recent version of Adobe Reader available for desktop and mobile devices. If you choose to use a third-party PDF vendor, we cannot guarantee documents will appear as intended.

In the event you receive such an email from Honda Federal Credit Union and wish not to receive similar email messages in the future, simply follow the instructions in the email to opt-out of future email marketing messages.
